

RED LIGHT

No one's here to sing along with you

Radio's playing the same old tune

It's been a long long long time ago

You started driving on a lonely road

The sun sets down

For a different light

Green fades out the color's changing

There's still some time to realize

Hit the break we'll all be rollin'

Open your eyes we'll all be waiting for you

To move along

Left or right you don't care at all

No map will ever show where you are

You are driving on your lonely road

You don't see the sign 'way to home'

The sun sets down

For a different light

Green fades out...
